2           shipments of wine to individuals.

Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

Under current law, a winery located outside this state may ship wine into this state without an out-of-state shippers' permit and directly to an individual if the winery is located in a state that has a reciprocal agreement with this state pertaining to out-of-state shipments of wine to individuals in the respective states (reciprocal agreement) and if certain other conditions are met. Prior to 2005 Wisconsin Act .... (2005 AB-100, the biennial budget bill), an individual in this state could not receive more than nine liters of wine annually from out-of-state wineries, and the 2005 biennial budget bill increased this amount to 27 liters.

This bill eliminates the quantity limitation on wine shipments to individuals in this state from out-of-state wineries shipping under reciprocal agreements.

For further information see the state fiscal estimate, which will be printed as an appendix to this bill.
